Why Spend Time with God? | Ronnie Hewitt

We all know that every relationship takes time. Well, a relationship with God, while unlike other relationships in many ways, still follows the rules of other relationships. The Bible is filled with comparisons to help us understand our relationship with God. For example, Christ is depicted as the bridegroom, and the Church is depicted as the bride. Marriage is two joining their lives as one (Genesis 2:24). Such intimacy involves time spent alone with one another. Another relationship is that of father and child. Close parental relationships are those in which children and parents have special "alone time" together. Spending time alone with a loved one provides the opportunity to truly come to know that person. Spending time alone with God is no different. When we're alone with God, we draw closer to Him and get to know Him in a different way than we do in group settings.

God desires "alone time" with us. He wants a personal relationship with us. He created us as individuals, "knitting" us in the womb (Psalm 139:13). He knows the intimate details of our lives, such as the number of hairs on our heads (Luke 12:7). He invites us to come to Him and know Him (Isaiah 1:18; Revelation 22:17; Song of Solomon 4:8). When we desire to know God intimately, we will seek Him early (Psalm 63:1) and spend time with Him. We will be like Mary, sitting at Jesus' feet listening to His voice (Luke 10:39). We will hunger and thirst for righteousness, and we will be filled (Matthew 5:6).

Fellowship with God is a tremendous privilege. It's also meant to be an amazing adventure every believer can experience. Spending time alone with God can rid our minds of the many distractions, so that we can focus on Him and hear His Word. Abiding in Him, we enjoy the intimacy to which He calls us, and we come to truly know Him.
