Absolute Truth

(John 8:32)

John 8:31-32

So Jesus was saying to those Jews who had believed Him, "If you continue in My word, then you are truly My disciples; [32] and you will know the truth, and the truth will set you free." (NASB)

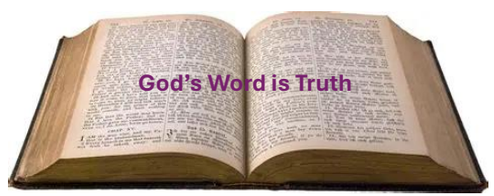
In a world overflowing with opinions, shifting values, and ever-changing narratives, Jesus' words cut through the noise with refreshing clarity. He doesn't point us to a truth, or our own truth, but the truth—absolute, unchanging, liberating.

When Jesus speaks of "the truth," He is not referring to a concept we discover, but a reality we encounter. Earlier in John's Gospel, He declares, "I am the way, the truth, and the life." Truth is embodied in Christ Himself. To know Him is to know what is real, what is right, and what is eternal.

Jesus spoke these words to people who believed they were already free. Yet He revealed a deeper bondage—slavery to sin, deception, and self-reliance. The freedom He offers is not political, emotional, or philosophical. It is spiritual freedom: Freedom from sin's penalty, freedom from sin's power, and freedom from the lies that distort our identity and purpose. Only the truth of Christ can break those chains.

Our culture often treats truth as flexible—something we shape to fit our preferences. But absolute truth is not subject to personal revision. God's Word stands firm whether it is applauded or rejected. Truth does not shift with trends. Truth does not bow to feelings. Truth does not evolve with culture. Absolute truth anchors us when everything elses feels uncertain.

Again, knowing the truth is not merely intellectual; it is transformational. Jesus ties truth to discipleship: "If you continue in My word…" Truth is lived, not just learned. We pursue truth by staying in Scripture. We practice truth by obeying Christ. We proclaim truth by living with integrity and love. Truth shapes our decisions, our relationships, and our witness.

In confusing times, the church has a sacred calling: to hold fast to the truth with courage and compassion. Not harshly, not arrogantly, but confidently—because truth is not a weapon to harm but a light to guide.


Absolute truth is not restrictive; it is very freeing. It does not confine; it liberates us. When we cling to Christ and His Word, we stand on solid ground. And in Him, we find the freedom our souls were made for.
